

THE A. O. U. W.'S

Great Street Fair and Carnival
—Robinson Amusement Company

Will Furnish the Attractions
For the Fall Festival.

There will be great doings in Paris next month. Beginning on Monday, October 1st, and continuing to Saturday night inclusive, the A. O. U. W. of this city, will hold a grand gala meet. For this purpose they have engaged the Robinson Amusement Company, which plays the very best attractions to be obtained and guarantees that all shows will be strictly clean, moral and highly entertaining.

There will be a big list of free attractions, including the famous Italian concert band, of 18 pieces, which will play classic music every day and night, under the direction of a competent director. Madame Orrocco, who mounts a spiral tower 40 feet high and a number of other interesting acts. These free attractions will be given every afternoon and evening and it will cost you nothing to see them.

The streets will be a veritable "Pike," but there will be nothing objectionable, making it perfectly safe for ladies and children to visit the "Pike" unaccompanied. Thousands of special electric lights will illuminate the various attractions and the whole will present a scene of rare brilliancy and splendor. Among the many attractions will be "La Rose Electric Fountain," "Fighting the Flames," "Temple of Mystery," "Electric Palace," "The San Francisco Calamity," "Colored Aristocracy," "Katzenjammer Kastle," "Fair Japan," "Penny Vaudeville," great Ferris wheel and others.

CROP, STOCK, ETC.

Sales of new corn are still being reported at $2 per barrel. Matt Long sold to James E. Clay, Marchmont Stock Farm, 200 barrels of corn at that figure, delivered at the crib.

Whaley & Boardman shipped to the Eastern market six cars of fat cattle, averaging from 1,200 to 1,400 pounds which cost them at from 43 to 44 cents per pound. This lot of cattle was purchased in Bourbon, Fayette and Clark counties.

Bosworth Has Clear Field.

Judge Henry B. Hines authorizes the announcement of his withdrawal as a candidate for State Auditor. This leaves Henry M. Bosworth, of Lexington, as the only candidate for Auditor and insures him a clear field, as last Thursday was the last day on which candidates could declare themselves, under the rules governing the State primary.

"The County Chairman."

Maclyn Arbuckle in George Ade's best comedy, "The County Chairman," will be the attraction at the Grand opera house Thursday night. In the most prominent role of the play, the role of Hon. Jim Hackler, the political boss, Maclyn Arbuckle has an opportunity to show not only his talents as a comedian but also as a dramatic artist of the first rank.

This will without doubt be one of the best attractions that will appear at the Grand this season, and if the people of Paris really want to see a first-class show don't fail to see "The County Chairman" Thursday evening.

The State Development Convention.

The time for holding the Fifth State Development Convention is growing near, and prospects are that it will be a great meeting. Arrangements at Winchester for the occasion are nearing completion. The program, however, is being held up to await the filling of one or two, and will not be made public until completed, though an excellent one is assured.

Music at the Lexington Trots.

Music has always been one of the great attractions at Kentucky's great trots. It has always been the policy of the management to secure the best bands available. This year the popular Weber, with his famous prize band of America, will give daily concerts before the grand stand. Weber's band, besides being one of the very best musical organizations in America, is noted for the appropriate selections and catchy music with which it favors the visitors of the trots. All the latest hits of the East are always heard for the first time in Lexington through Weber, and his concerts alone are worth the admission price. These concerts are given daily, from Oct. 2nd to 12th, during the entire meeting.

Still Has Hopes.

Although the situation in Cuba has not been improved since the arrival of Secretary Taft, and has, if anything, become more serious, the secretary has not given up hope that a peaceable settlement may be found without disturbing Cuban independence. The secretary, however, has not so far announced his plans, and the action he will take probably depends on the attitude of the Moderate and Liberal leaders within the next few days.

He Announced His Intentions.

A young man and his lady-love attended a protracted meeting which was being held in the village church. Arriving late they found the church filled, but a gentleman arose and gave the lady his seat, while the young man was ushered far away to a seat in another part of the building.

The service grew warm and impressive.

"Will those who want our prayers stand up?" said the preacher.

At this juncture the young man thought it was getting late and he would get his sweetheart and go home, but not just knowing where she sat he rose to his feet and looked over the audience.

The minister, mistaking his intentions asked: "Young man, are you seeking salvation?"

To which the young man responded: "At present I am seeking Sal Jackson!"

Did It With His Little Ax.

Punch last week, in a full page cartoon, showed Teddy Roosevelt in cowboy costume, sleeves rolled up, standing, hatchet in hand, by a great tree which represented the English language.

Father Time, examining the tree with a powerful magnifying glass, observes a slight incision in the trunk. "Who's been trying to cut down this tree?" he asks.

"Father," answers Teddy, "I cannot tell a lie. I did it with my little ax."

To this Father Time replies, "Ah, well; boys will be boys."

Indicted for Murder.

Sheriff Rice W. Johnson and members of his posse, who arrested Frank Ball in Virginia, were indicted Saturday for the murder of John Lee, who was killed in the house where Ball was hiding. Leading business men of Middlesboro and Pineville are named as accessories.

North Magnetic Pole.

Capt. Ronald Amundsen, discoverer of the Northwest passage, reached Seattle a few days ago on the steamship Saratoga from Nome. He was met by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the local Norwegian societies. Owing to his desire to reach the Government observatory at Sitka in order to complete his magnetic observations, Capt. Amundsen sailed for Sitka on the steamer Jefferson a short time after his arrival.

"My observations extend over a period of three years, and it will take that long to calculate them out," said he. "Until that time it is utterly impossible to say positively what I have accomplished by my observations. I believe, however, that I have located the North magnetic pole. I cannot say as yet whether it is a shifting point or extends over a large area. We also took careful observations of the aurora borealis and I believe my observations will show that this phenomenon has a marked effect upon the compass. Our zoological and ethnological collection is fairly complete." "Valuable scientific instruments used by Capt. Amundsen in taking magnetic observations were not to be found when he left the steamer Saratoga. Their loss may seriously interfere with his magnetic observations."

Victim of Vanity.

A London telegram says there are grave fears for the health of Queen Alexandra. She is now in Norway recuperating, but her condition was so serious that Sir Frederic Treves accompanied her as medical attendant. She also has two trained nurses in her suite. Although no mention is made of the Queen's malady, it is thought it is a general breakdown after a strenuous life. The Queen, although she looks younger than her daughter is still getting to be an old woman. It is believed that the artificial means she has adopted in the last quarter of a century in order to appear still young and beautiful have had a bad effect on her health. In the first place she wears a series of wigs. They are heavy, being full-haired and curly and have been the cause of many bad headaches. Then some years ago she had her scalp cut and the skin stretched to take out the wrinkles on her face and the pores of the face have for years been closed by the heavy enamel which completely covered the skin. Again her neck is closely covered night and day on account of a disfiguring scar and this is said to have affected the proper circulation. The Queen is also almost completely deaf. She has for five or six years been compelled to use all sorts of tiny aurophones in her ears. She is also slightly lame, and has not done much exercise as she should.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Currency Notes.

The fiber paper on which currency notes are printed is manufactured especially for the Government by a Massachusetts concern. It costs 43 cents per pound. The short silk threads which are its most distinguished marks, are introduced at a certain point in a manner unknown outside the factory, this forming the greatest insurance against successful counterfeiting. When shipped from the paper mill each sheet has been counted twice. Yet, upon their receipt at Washington, all the sheets are again counted twice and examined for flaws.

Kentucky Diamonds.

General Samuel Pearson, for many years an expert engineer in South African diamond and gold fields, after several weeks' careful scientific investigation of Leon's craters on Little Fork, thirty miles southwest of Ashland, declares they are identical in every particular with those of the Transvaal. The masses and clusters, he says, as well as the geological formation, are exactly the same. He believes diamonds will be found in due time. His report tallies with that of Dr. Draper, South African geologist and engineer, who was employed recently to make a report on the property.

A company is placing machinery on the ground and expects to begin shortly mining for sparklers.

A number of wealthy Kentuckians put up the preliminary funds for testing the craters, after securing the right held by J. A. Malone, of Grayson. General Pearson has been retained as consulting engineer. He says it may take some time to develop the mine, as the craters are very large, and contain enormous masses of Kimberlite, which has to be washed. He is satisfied, however, that the precious stones are there.

New York's Population.

The statement that New York is the third American city is calculated to startle. But it is meant that the number of Americans born of American parents is only 737,477, which is less than the total population of Chicago or Philadelphia. Of course, native-born citizens are Americans, but if born of foreign parents they represent a variety of nationalities. The same is true in a measure of those born here of native parents, but not to the same extent, so the distinction is kept up in the census reports.

New York has 672,776 Jews, 658,861 Germans, 595,210 Irish, 237,870 Russians and 214,798 Italians. It contains more Jews than any other city in the world, and more than there are in the whole of Palestine. There are more Irish than in any of the four provinces of Ireland except Ulster.

As the principal port of entry of the country, New York receives most of the immigrants, and a good many never get away. Of the people there in 1900, according to the Twelfth Census, 1,270,080 were foreign born. As the city population in that year was 3,437,202, the foreign-born population constituted considerably more than one-third of the whole.

Novelties.

Mrs. Baird has just received a beautiful stock of fancy combs, barrettes and lots of other pretty novelties that will please the women folks. These goods and many other novelties can be seen on Saturday at the regular Fall Opening of millinery at her store, which is the 29th.

Bridal and Business.

A Wisconsin exchange says: "Miss Jennie Jones, and Bob Henry were married at the Jones mansion last night. The bride is the daughter of our Constable, Jones, who made a good officer, and will undoubtedly be re-elected in the spring. He offers a fine horse for sale in another column. The groom runs a grocery store on Main street, is a good patron of our advertising columns, and has a fine line of bargains this week. All summer he paid two cents more for butter than any other store in town. The happy couple left on the 10 o'clock train for Milwaukee to visit the bride's uncle, who is reported to have lots of money and Bright's disease. Bob certainly has an eye for business."

A Rich Country.

Mineral products are so abundant and varied in the United States that the figures almost stagger belief. Recent tests by the Government mineralogists at Portland, Ore., of the black sands of the Snake and Columbia rivers show them to be of good value, containing gold, platinum, and other metals in paying quantities. Besides they are rich in iron of the best sort for making the finest of spring steel. Nothing has been found that excels it for hair-springs for watches and edged tools of high grade.

Giving Good Advice.

Former Senator James K. Jones, twice chairman of the National Democratic Committee and manager of both the campaigns for the presidency of William Jennings Bryan, has written to Mr. Bryan advising him strongly to drop the subject of Government ownership of railroads and to take a firm stand in favor of an enforcement of the laws now on the statute books.

Woman's Trials.

The bitter trail in a woman's life is to be childless. Who can tell how hard the struggle may have been ere she learnt to resign herself to her lonely lot? The absence of this link to bind marital life together, the absence of this one pledge to mutual affection is a common disappointment. Many unfortunate couples become estranged thereby. Even if they do not drift apart, one may read the whole extent of their disappointment in the eyes of such a childless couple when they rest on the children of others. To them the largest family does not seem too numerous. In many cases of barrenness or childlessness the obstacle to child-bearing is easily removed by the cure of weakness on the part of the woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of restoring health and fruitfulness to many a barren woman, to the great joy of the household. In other, but rare cases, the obstruction to the bearing of children has been found to be of a surgical character, but easily removable by painless operative treatment at the Laval Hospital and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., over which Dr. Pierce of the "Favorite Prescription" fame presides. In all cases where children are desired and are absent, an effort should be made to find out the real cause, since it is generally so easily removed by proper treatment.

In all the various weaknesses, displacements, prolapsus, inflammation and debilitating, catarrhal drains and in all cases of nervousness and debility, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the most efficient remedy that can possibly be used. It has to its credit hundreds of thousands of cures—more in fact than any other remedy put up for sale through druggists, especially for women's use. The ingredients of which the "Favorite Prescription" is composed have received the most positive endorsement from the leading medical writers on Materia Medica of all the several schools of practice. All the ingredients are drawn from the English on the wrapper enclosing the bottle, so that any woman making use of this famous medicine may know exactly what she is taking. Dr. Pierce takes his patients into his full confidence, which he can afford to do as the formula after which the "Favorite Prescription" is made will bear the most careful examination.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for women.

Lord Roseberry Pokes Fun at Mr. Roosevelt.

Lord Roseberry, speaking at the Jubilee dinner of the Hawick Archaeological Society, Friday night at Hawick, Scotland, of which Dr. Murray, editor of the Oxford New English Dictionary, is president, said amidst laughter that he came especially to hear Dr. Murray's opinion of President Roosevelt and was disappointed that not a word had been uttered on the subject.

Lord Roseberry then humorously referred to Mr. Roosevelt's spelling reform, saying a blow struck at the recognized rules of spelling of the English race was a blow at morality itself. Conscientious and virtuous people, he said, were hampered by spelling, but the unscrupulous and vicious were aided according to phonetic rules of their own, producing results fully acceptable to themselves and sometimes understood by others.

He was not at all sure that the archaic rules of spelling laid down by tradition and stereotyped by the dictionaries had not filled half the lunatic asylums of the country. The conscientious man got muddled, but the unscrupulous went ahead, and at the last moment of his life might be honored by the homage of the President of the United States.

"Why and What."

The Youth's Companion tells of a little girl whose natural inclination was to ask questions. Her mother, in replying to one of her many questions, thought to impress a lesson. The following is the conversation:

"Mother," cried Mary, bursting into the room one day, "what shall I name the kittens?"

"I should think," said the tired mother, fixing upon her a meaning eye, "you might call one of them 'Why' and the other 'What.'"

The names seemed to strike the child's fancy, and were at once adopted. But the moral refused to stick, and, indeed its existence was not even suspected, as was shown a day or two later.

"Mother," said Mary, innocently, looking up from a prolonged cuddling of her pets, "why is Why's name Why?"
